The Scornful Nose.
'Tis very true, O maiden fair,
You're pleasant to the sight,
With flowing locks of golden hair
And eyes of flashing light.
Upon your cheeks health loves to train
The lily and the rose,
But something makes your beauty vain,
It dwells upon your nose!
Not that the lovely nose could find
Upon a lovelier face,
Mid all the flower of womankind,
A more befitting place.
But there's a curl upon its tip,
Half comic, half severe,
In cool collusion with the lip
That savors of a sneer.
So beauty bright, if you would wed,
When lovers come to woo,
Beware the tossing of the head,
The glance that looks askew,
Men ask for love, and not for wit,
'Tis heart, not head, you ought to hit;
Uncurl your scornful nose!

HOW SHE FOUND OUT.
It was one of the most provoking and unaccountable things that was ever heard of. Lina Rivers had two lovers, and, for the life of her, she couldn't tell which of them she liked best, or whether she loved either.
To do Lina justice, she distributed her smiles very equally between them; she was apparently as happy with one as the other. But when either urged her to give him a decided answer to his suit, "she didn't know. She would think it over, and give him an answer next week." But when next week came she was as undecided as ever.
Thus matters went on for some time; but it couldn't last forever.
"My dear Lina, you promised that you would tell me to-day," urged Harry, whose stock of patience was well nigh exhausted.
Lina's sunny face became instantly overshadowed at those grave, earnest words.
"How can I tell you, Harry, when I don't know myself?"
"You would know it you loved me, Lina. And so, bitter as the knowledge is, I am compelled to believe that you do not, and never can."

But I do love you, Harry!" returned Lina, almost ready to cry at the tender reproach conveyed by these words. "That is to say, I like you very much, indeed."
"But do you like me the best? That is what I want to know."
"Yes, I like you best, now."
"Then why not promise to become my wife?"
Because when I am with William, and he talks to me the same way, I—I think I like him the best."
In spite of his pain and perplexity Harry could not help smiling at this naive confession.
"But you cannot marry us both, dear child!"
"Of course not," said Lina, blushing rosily at this practical application of her words; "but why can't things go on just as they have been? That is what I should like."

For a moment Harry stood in silent perplexity. At last, quite despairing of making her comprehend him, he said:
"I am convinced that you will never entertain a warmer feeling for me than friendship; and that the wisest thing for me to do is to seek in absence the peace that forgetfulness alone can give me. God bless you, dear Lina, and make you very happy with the man who may be so fortunate as to win you."
"He won't go; he loves me too dearly," thought Lina. And yet the sound of the closing door fell heavily on her heart.
"So Burns is fairly off at last," said a lady acquaintance to Lina the next day. "I just met him on his way to the depot to catch the two o'clock train for L—, Poor fellow! He did look disconsolate enough. Goodwin is going to be the happy man I perceive. Now I always thought your choice would fall on Harry."
"I don't know that I am obliged to have either," said Lina, laughingly, but with an indescribable sinking at her heart.
How little do women show of their real thoughts and feelings. Never did Lina rattle away more carelessly and gaily than after receiving this unexpected news.
Just before tea, as Lina was sitting alone with her mother, in burst her brother James.
"There has been a terrible accident, mother. The two o'clock train to L— ran into a baggage train, and killed I don't know how many. There's an extra train going to their relief, and they want all the linen bandages and cordials that can be had."

Away bustled kind-hearted Mrs. Rivers to get whatever the house afforded, leaving poor Lina with a dumb horror in her set eyes and pallid face that no language could express.
Going to her room she put on her things, how, she hardly knew.
"Killed!" she moaned, as she hurried toward the depot; "and it is I that sent him to his death! Oh, Harry! now, indeed, I know; but ah, too late!"

As Lina turned the corner of the depot, in her blind haste, she ran directly into the arms of a gentleman who was coming from an opposite direction.
Lina gave a wild cry of joy as she looked into the face of the speaker.
"Oh, Harry! can it be you?" she gasped.
"I thought you were on the train and killed!"
"I was just five minutes too late for the train, Lina."
As a matter of course, Harry went home with Lina, and curiously enough he chose the longest and loneliest route he could have taken.
"So you really do care for me a little, Lina?" he said, looking down into her flushed, tear-wet face.
"I like you a great deal, Harry," was the low and tremulous reply. "Please bend your head so that I can whisper in your ear."

"Well, darling?"
"I think—yes, I am very sure that I have found out."
"Found out what?"
"Found out who it is that is dearer to me than all the world besides."
"Tell me his name."
Lina hid her flushed cheeks upon her lover's shoulder.
"Oh! Harry, can't you guess? It is you—you! and to think that I never knew it until I thought I had lost you forever!"
A feeling of solemnity, mingled with the tenderness that impelled him to draw her warmly and closely to his heart.
"Forever? From henceforth there is no such word for thee and me, beloved; for not even death shall part us!"

THE BUNGTOWN WARRIORS;
Or, the Knights of Jersey Flats.
CHAPTER I.—EVENING.
Night closed around the swamps of Hoboken. Sir Percival Hardup, who had been watching its approach for an hour, from a neighboring hill, with a spy glass, turned his horse's head toward his quarters, with a sad heart; for the day had been destructive to horse flesh; and thousands of the Bungtown chivalry had bit mud (not dust) of Hoboken. He sought his tent. His brow was dark and gloomy, as could be plainly seen through his cast-iron helmet; and an uneasiness of gait as he strode along, betrayed great agitation of the nervous system.
"Flip MacGilder," said he, hoarsely, to the sentinel, "hang up my horse and give me helmet some water. And, hark ye! disturb me not until the clock in the vestibule striketh the hour of seven. Now, away!"
Sir Percival Hardup slowly divested himself of his armor, and taking a match from his vest pocket, he lighted a three cent regalia, and puffed away at it in moody silence. He stretched himself upon three chairs, with a bundle of old newspapers under his head, and dropped asleep. But his sleep was troubled. Anon he started and shouted: "Hoboken forever! give 'em fits!" Again a clammy sweat covered his brow, and he muttered, "Ha! thrice to-day has MacGuffin covered me in battle. Down, old copperhead, down!"

But soon his slumbers grew calm, and not a sound disturbed the silence, save the sentinel, who sat whetting his jack-knife on a brick in the entry, and indulged in whistling some old familiar psalm tunes, as if his mind were elsewhere.
CHAPTER II.—MIDNIGHT.
It was midnight, within about ten minutes, and Sir Percival Hardup still slept. At this moment a slight noise was heard at the door, and, bearing in his hand a tin lantern, a knight of gigantic size—some five feet six inches in height—in complete armor, strode into the tent. He gazed intently upon the sleeper, and then, in a suppressed voice of great anguish, sighed out: "Ah! oh! um!" and sank into a seat like a cooking stove. His face could not be seen; but there was a dignity about the strange knight that betokened a genteel bringing up, which had won the respect of the sentinel, who had been bribed by a nincompoop to admit him to the tent, on the plea of "special business."
His armor was of complete black, with no distinguishing mark save a huge nose of brass, borne upon the helmet, which, in the light of the lantern looked like a quart pot. Taking a pencil from one pocket and a card from another, he wrote a few hurried lines; when, whispering to the sentinel for an envelope and a wafer, he sealed the missive and deposited it by the side of the sleeping Sir Percival, saying to the admiring attendant: "No trouble, sirrah, about mailing letters here; we can mail them with our own mailed hands, eh?"

It were better had he muttered this, for the sentinel, who hoped for a further "stake," laughed loudly at the pleasantry. The light in the lantern disappeared, as Sir Percival Hardup awoke, and, starting upon his elbow, he cried aloud, "What, ho! without there?" The sentinels came rushing in, rubbing their eyes. None had heard the noise, and, at the suggestion of Flip MacGilder, that he had been awoke by his own snoring, Sir Percival turned over and went to sleep again.
"Keep shady," were the parting words of the strange knight, as he placed a quarter in the hands of Flip, and strode forth from the tent. Mystery crowned the hour.

CHAPTER III.—MORNING.
Scarcely had the clock done striking the hour of seven, next morning, when Flip MacGilder stood by his master's side to awaken him from his slumbers, which he accomplished by pulling one of the chairs from beneath him. Sir Percival Hardup wiped his eyes with his hand and combed his hair with his fingers, and then, as was his wont, commenced pomeling his attendant, by way of gentle exercise, after which he proceeded to dress himself in the panoply of war. Stooping to pick up one of the stove-pipes that encased his legs, Sir Percival espied the letter left by the stranger lying upon the ground. He gazed upon the writing, and a deadly paleness covered his face. His limbs trembled in every joint and rivet, and his teeth shook like a Hoboken ferry boat. He read:

"Perfigis retch: Your our is cum. Mete me to-morrow outside the Bungtown lines, and Ile giv you Jessy. Yours, truly,
MACGUFFIN.
Sir Percival drank his coffee in silence; after which, arming himself with two spears, a battle axe, a sword, a mace and shield, besides filling his belt with bowie knives, revolvers and slung-shots, he walked forth into the fields, in the rear of the Bungtown camp, where he soon discovered MacGuffin sitting on a rock, reading a copy of the New Jersey Daily Slimes, who sprang to his feet and pulled out his sword.

The contest was speedily begun and quickly ended, for Sir Percival had "too many irons in the fire," and he couldn't "come in" well. One blow from the powerful arm of MacGuffin, and the head of Sir Percival Hardup, like an iron pot, rolled at the feet of the victor.
Coroner Green, under the circumstances, did not think it advisable to summons a jury, and informed Sir Hardup's friends by telegraph, that they had better come on and look after his effects, as he was not exactly in a condition to do so himself. A Chatham-street Jew bought Sir Percival Hardup's wardrobe, after a few keepsakes had been taken by his friends, for about the price of old iron.
MacGuffin left Bungtown on an Erie train, and of course was never seen or heard of afterward.
Flip MacGilder, after serving a term in the Trenton jail, was elected to the New Jersey Legislature.

ADMIRE THE MUSIC.—The New Orleans Picayune says: "A countryman at the theatre, the other night, as the escort of some ladies, retired at an intermission and returned with a pound or two of peanuts wrapped up in a paper, and two huge bananas sticking from his pocket. Just then, however, and before he had time to take his seat, one of the actresses who had especially won his admiration, came to the footlights and warbled a beautiful melody. The full, rich voice, exquisite intonation, and breathing strains almost divine, completed the conquest of the countryman's heart, and, unable to restrain his delight, he heaved on the stage his peanuts, bananas and pocket handkerchief as a tribute to the fair enchantress. There was a momentary astonishment visible upon the faces on the stage, a single interval of hesitation, which was removed by the countryman's voice, full and clear, "Take 'em, gal, by jingo, you're welcome."
SOME years ago the New York Herald suggested that the public debt be paid by voluntary contributions from the people. The scheme, we are glad to say, is about to succeed. Fifteen cents of the necessary amount has already been received at Washington.

The propensity of women to preach is simply irrepressible. There are only twenty young women in the country who are regularly studying theology to prepare themselves, but there are at least 20,000 married women who are practicing daily on their husbands.

Colonel John Hancock, brother of the General, has been elected to the Dakota Legislature from Pembina.
A New York paper suggests as a happy expedient for the Prison Reform Congress—to put the Congress in prison.
The Channel Islands are just now crowded with wealthy French families. Jersey and Gurnsey are remarkable for their cheapness of living and salubrity of climate.

SAN FRANCISCO.—The San Joaquin Republican says: "The census marshals have concluded their work of enumeration in San Francisco. The population is not so great as estimated one year ago, but larger than stated a few weeks since. Last year people spoke of San Francisco as a city with a population of 170,000, and during the past the estimate was variously placed at from 135,000 to 145,000. It is returned at 150,361, showing a gain since 1860 of 93,559. In 1860 her population was 56,802, and the present figures show an increase at the rate of 260 per cent. At the same rate of increase the population of San Francisco in 1880 will be fully 400,000. In the next decade the population of our metropolis ought to reach nearly half a million, but we cannot safely predict that it will reach that number. If the white laborer, artisan and mechanic be excluded from the country by the continued introduction of Chinese, it is doubtful if the Caucasian population of San Francisco will be twenty or even ten per cent. greater in 1880 than it is in 1870. The Chinaman is already filling her workshops and factories, thus decreasing the number of her white residents. If capital persists in forcing its cheap labor chattel in the State, in a few years we shall have a few very wealthy men and a great many very poor ones, and over all will spread a blight that in time will destroy the country."

ANDREW JACKSON DAVIS defines the spirit-world as shaped like a large lemon, and peoples it with spiritual ambulances and hospitals, where the mortal wrapper is peeled off, thus leaving the spirits less than human size, but otherwise like mortals. "All spirits are perfect in form, for deformities, such as humpback, broken limbs, and so on, are peeled off with the mortal wrapper," which is pleasing. Whether there be spiritual tanneries to utilize these mortal wrappers, he neglects to state.

ODD FELLOWS.—From the reports made to the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows for the United States, we collate the following: The number of lodges is 3,765; number of members, 298,083; total revenue for the past year, $2,714,388 93; total relief, $859,906 86. The number of deaths in the Order during the year was 2,558. There are also 1,059 encampments, containing 56,215 members.

BETTER STILL.—Some days since, says the Reporter, the telegraph informed us that West Virginia had gone Democratic by a considerable majority; that the Legislature was Democratic, and that at least two Democratic Congressmen had been elected. Later advices by mail show that the Democratic majority on the popular vote is 8,000, and that the Democrats have elected all three of the Congressmen. A more thorough political revolution never was known.

IRON SHIPS.—Iron for ships is rapidly superseding wood in English ship yards. In 1865 there were 806 wooden ships built in England, and in 1869 but 324. In 1868 the tonnage of iron ships built was 235,937, against 36,977 wooden and 24,121 of composite. Iron ships are more durable, require less repairs and stand heavier storms than those of wood, and it will not be long before the latter must be entirely superseded.

LORD Shaftesbury believes that the next census will show a population in London of nearly 4,000,000, a serious proportion of whom are, he states, in a social and moral degradation so great that, unless something is done to improve them, the British Constitution will not be worth a quarter of a century's purchase.

At the State Fair of Texas, recently held at San Antonio, Neil Crocker rode sixty miles in two hours and fifty-three minutes, over a rough half mile track. His stock for the first thirty miles was poorly fed mustangs, and he lost considerable time by two of his horses bolting the track. The people thereabout think the time cannot be beaten.

THE friends of General G. W. Custis Lee, who is a professor in the Virginia Military Institute, will present him for election to the Presidency of Washington College to succeed his father.

A LINE in one of Moore's songs reads thus: "Our couch shall be roses bespangled with dew." To which a sensible girl replied: " 'Twould give me the rheumatism and so it would you."

The Fresno Examiner

COUNTY OFFICIAL PRESS.

KENNEDY, Jones' Ferry; LEROY DENNIS, Big Dry Creek; J. M. SHANNON, Buchanan; J. M. SHANNON, At Large. THE LATE ELECTIONS.—The late elections in the east have been most propitious to the Democracy. While the gain is not as great as we hoped, it is better than we expected, considering the unjust and illegal interference of the Radicals with the elections. The returns are not full, and some changes may occur, and should there be any they will most probably be in favor of the Democracy. A dispatch to the San Francisco Examiner from a reliable gentleman at Virginia City, announces that Bradley, Democrat, has been elected Governor, and that the entire State has gone Democratic. If this news proves to be correct, the Pacific States will stand a unit in opposition to Radicalism, and will secure a reliable gentleman as a Member of Congress in place of the Radical Fitch, and insure the election of a substantial Democrat in place of the old Radical corruptionist, Nye. Nevada has always been a pet cub of the Radical party, and its reclamation may be considered as one of the miracles of the present day. In New York Hoffman has been re-elected Governor by a greatly increased majority, and the Democrats have certainly elected fifteen Congressmen (a gain of two), and there are two districts not determined at date of our latest information, the 9th inst. The Radicals are reported to concede the Assembly to the Democrats. In New Jersey the Radicals are reported to have carried both branches of the Legislature, but we consider the information doubtful, inasmuch as the Democrats have gained the First District which was Republican in 1868, and have carried the Second and Third Districts, thus giving them three out of the five districts in the State. The Fifth, which was Democratic in '68, is reported to have gone Radical, but no mention is made of the Fourth. Massachusetts goes black, as usual. Maryland, true to herself, has gone straight Democratic. In Virginia, as far as heard from, the Democrats have carried three, and the negroes three Congressional districts, and there are two to hear from. Rhode Island voted to continue to bend a suppliant knee to Radical rule. Delaware remains true to the white man. No particulars from Alabama, nor Louisiana. In Tennessee the Democrats have swept everything before them. The Democrats have elected, certainly, six out of the nine Congressmen, with three still in doubt. In the last Congress Tennessee had a full Radical delegation. A Democrat will be elected to succeed Fowler, Radical, by the Legislature. Kentucky goes the Democratic ticket straight. The Democrats have probably gained one Congressman in Illinois, and the Legislature is still in doubt. In Michigan the Democracy has gained one Congressman, and also one in Wisconsin, and the Radical majorities in those States are largely reduced. In Missouri the Bolters have, with the assistance of the Democrats, swept everything before them. This last may, for all practical purposes, be considered a Democratic victory, as the triumphant party is antagonistic to the Grant Administration, and favor the restoration of the right of suffrage to fifty thousand white men, in that State, who have been disfranchised by the Radicals. Thus we have a gain, if the news is correct, of seventeen Democratic Congressmen, not including the seven anti-Administration members from Missouri. If there has been a proportionate gain in the States of Alabama, Arkansas and Florida, the Republican majority in the next House will be very small. Upon the whole the Democrats have much to rejoice at. Instead of sixty-nine, as in the last Congress, they will have upwards of one hundred members. The chances for the election of a Democratic President next year is certainly most flattering.

An Eastern bound passenger train on the Central Pacific Railroad was captured by robbers twice, a few days since, and robbed. The first capture took place at Verdi, a station near the State line, where the mail and express were robbed of over forty-one thousand dollars. The next was at a station called Toano, in the State of Nevada, the robbers getting but two or three thousand dollars for their trouble. Large rewards are offered by the Railroad and express companies for the arrest and conviction of the robbers.

EDWIN BOOTH's share in the receipts for five performances in St. Louis was $6,500.

AGENTS WANTED!

JUST OUT.
BANCROFT'S NEW MAP
OF THE
PACIFIC STATES!

California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Arizona, Utah, British Columbia, and Alaska.

Elegantly engraved on copper and colored in colors. Fifth edition, thoroughly revised and brought down to date 1870. It shows the great Overland Railroad, also the proposed Northern and Southern Pacific Railroads and their connections; also all the railroads projected in California and Oregon.

Upon the same sheet on a less scale are the maps of Alaska, and a complete Railroad map of the United States.

No other map can compare with this edition in fulness of detail, and beauty and accuracy of its typography.

An enterprise of such magnitude and importance as this large and elegant copper plate map, in order to be properly appreciated, should be in every office, school house and dwelling. Those wishing an agency should apply immediately for terms, to

THE RESULT.—"Satanella," the New York correspondent of the San Francisco Call says, in a late letter to that paper:

Now that the R-publians have got the United States authorities to take charge of the polls, and expect in consequence to get rid of 50,000 fraudulent votes which they protest the Democrats thrust into the ballot box at every election, the probability is that the Democratic vote of this city will be larger than ever. When our State Legislature was Republican and gave us Republican Commissioners to govern us, the indignities of their opponents swelled the Democratic vote year after year until, at last the Republican vote got down to about 25 per cent. only of the total vote. The interference of the United States authority will, I strongly suspect, exercise a similar effect. A few more such unique efforts will leave no Republican vote at all in Gotham. The Republicans themselves, by their own indiscreet management, will have whittled it all away. We will see.

And we have seen. The Democratic majority has been increased. Grant & Co. have been snubbed. They sought to insolently coerce the free voters of New York City, and the people have denounced the action, in overwhelming numbers. Try again, Mr. Grant, and give somebody else a chance to spit in your face.

It makes a great difference whether glasses are used over the nose or under the nose.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD!

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inverecite cases of scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and untold taint of the organism undermines the constitution, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops in one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear.

Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief and at length cure by the use of this Sarsaparilla: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Sore Eyes, Sore Throat, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm and other visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal or Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhoea or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations and Female Diseases are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute directions for each are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis with each bottle. It is a safe and reliable remedy for Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulation of extraneous matters in the blood, yielding quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. The SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions, or with any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

A SERENADE.—On last Thursday evening we were favored with a most delightful serenade, or at least it was delightfully funny. About midnight we were aroused from our innocent, quiet and peaceful slumbers, by a few moments to the sounds, which were an admixture of noises resembling the filing of saws, the grinding of axes, the squealing of pigs, the crying of babies, the melodious strains of a hundred clarion-voiced tom-cats, and a thousand other horrible noises imported from the infernal regions expressly for the occasion. After listening for a time we arose and peered through our chamber window. There, by the light of the moon, we could see the stalwart form of our friend, Mr. H. C. D., close to him was the corpulent and jocular sheep raiser from near the Fresno, E. J. H., the smiling Dr. L., the happy T. J. P., vander tangle-foot, Mr. S. W. H., the gentleman who presides over the principal hotel of Millerton with such dignity, and several other gentlemen whose names we have forgotten. They all had their hands joined and were dancing a kind of war dance around a couple, who were seated in the centre playing on Chinese fiddles and singing in most enchanting strains an accompaniment. We recognized in the figures in the centre our genial and courteous friend, H. St. J. D., and a lady evidently of Chinese extraction. The company, after entertaining us with several of their most enchanting and bewitching melodies, bade us adieu, and repaired to the residence of Mr. J. N. Walker, our worthy Sheriff, and poured forth a few of their delicious and soul-stirring airs, to which Mr. W. listened with appreciative ear. The music certainly was thrilling. It seemed to enter into one's very soul, and to touch each particular nerve and make it thrill with emotion. We never heard its like before (nor don't want to again). We do not know what was the occasion of the affair, unless it was to convince us of the "reality of life."

COUNTY STATISTICS.—From Mr. Wm. Faymonville, the gentlemanly and efficient Deputy County Assessor, we obtain the following statistical information in regard to our county: Number of acres of land assessed, 1,344,079 19; value of real estate and improvements, $1,683,196; value of personal property, $3,219,230. The amount of State and County Tax is $68,351 58; amount of dog tax, $532; total tax, $68,583 56. The taxable property in the county would probably show a great excess of the amount stated in property was assessed as high as in some other counties of the State, as in this county everything is assessed at a low valuation, there being no demand for its being rated high. Land throughout the county has been assessed at the rate of $1 25 per acre.

The lumber mill of McCullough & Co. has closed business for the season. It is the intention of this enterprising firm to remove the mill into the piney east of the north fork of the San Joaquin river, upon the mountain at the head of their Crane Valley log slide. By this movement the citizens of the county will be furnished with a finer quality of lumber than has ever been supplied to the farmers and stockraisers north of this place. They contemplate having the work completed and in operation to furnish lumber for the spring hauling.

COUNTY MAP.—The map of Fresno county, ordered by the Board of Supervisors during their session in August last, has arrived. It is an excellent piece of workmanship and was badly needed by the county. It is gotten up in book form, a township being represented on each page, and the names of the claimants of the different sections of land indexed. It cost $500, but is well worth it.

HOUSES WANTED.—There is not at the present time a single vacant house in Millerton, and there is a lively demand for residences by families who wish to settle in the town, for the purpose of sending their children to school. Most any kind of a house can rent at from $6 to $12 per month. This is no exaggeration of facts, and certainly speaks encouragingly for Millerton.

SENT UP.—The member of the illustrious Smith family who was arrested and brought before Justice Rumble for assaulting a Chinaman, was tried on Wednesday and found guilty, and in the absence of twenty-five dollars with which to pay the fine that was imposed upon him, he was sent to the county jail for twelve days and a half.

COMING UP NICELY.—We learn that all the grain sown on summer fallowed land is now up and growing nicely, while that which was planted subsequent to the first storm has sprouted and is doing well. The grass has got a good start, sufficient for sheep to nibble.

CONDEMNED.—The bridge across the ravine on this side of the river, just below the Millerton ferry, was condemned as unsafe by the Board of Supervisors, at their late meeting, and the erection of another one ordered.

AN effort is being made by several gentlemen of this town to get up a pleasant party for New Year's, at this place. Definite arrangements will be made during the coming week.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—A temperance lecture will take place on next Friday evening, at the Court House, to which the public is invited.

A PLEASANT party took place at the residence of Mr. John Wyatt, on Big Dry Creek, last Friday evening.

We have heard it stated that the mail service between this place and Stockton has been increased to twice a week. We only hope the rumor is true.

DURING the quarterly meeting of the M. E. Church South, which closed in this place on Sunday evening, two persons professed religion and joined the church.

RESUMED.—The meetings of the Millerton Sabbath School have been resumed. They take place at two o'clock on every Sunday afternoon.

A SHOW of some kind, a specie of panorama, we believe, is advertised to appear in town to-night.

REV. Mr. Alstenson will preach in the Court House this evening at seven o'clock.

THE Board of Supervisors had a very protracted meeting this last session.

ADJOINING COUNTIES.

The Snelling Argus of November 3d, says:

The continuance of dry weather is beginning to cause some uneasiness in the minds of some of our farmers who have large tracts of country sowed to grain. Though copious showers have fallen in Fresno county, starting the grass and giving the plains the green hue of early spring, our county has been less favored, only sprinkling here when heavy showers were vouchsafed to other people.

The Mariposa Free Press of the 3d has the following:

A New York telegram of October 27th, states that some of the holders of Mariposa certificates have caused notices to be served on the Trustees of the Mariposa Estate, requiring them to sell the estate for the benefit of certificates has remained unpaid for two years and upwards, and that by the terms of the deed of trust, it has become the duty of the Trustees to sell the estate for the benefit of certificate holders. A "consummation most devoutly to be wished," so far as the best interests of Mariposa county are concerned.

A RESOLUTION of expulsion didn't work well in the case of a Good Templar who came into an Oswego Lodge with a bottle of whisky. He picked up a chair and expelled the whole meeting.

A Body and Mind Disease.

Such is Dyspepsia. The stomach and the brain are too intimately allied for the one to suffer without the other, so that dyspepsia and despondency are inseparable. It may be added, too, that irritation of the stomach is almost invariably followed by irritation of the temper.

The invigorating and tranquilizing operation of Hostetter's Bitters is most powerfully developed in cases of indigestion. The first effect of this agreeable tonic is comforting and encouraging. A mild glow pervades the system, the chronic uneasiness in the region of the stomach is lessened, and the nervous restlessness which characterizes the disease is abated. This improvement is not transient. It is not succeeded by the return of the old symptoms with superadded force, as is always the case when unmediated stimulants are given for the complaint. Each dose seems to impart a permanent accession of healthful invigoration. But this is not all. The appetizing and anti-bilious properties of the preparation are scarcely secondary in importance to its tonic virtues. If there is an overflow of bile the secretion is soon brought within proper limits and if the urinary organ is inert and torpid it is toned and regulated. The effect upon the discharging organs is equally salutary, and in cases of constipation the cathartic action is just sufficient to produce the desired result, gradually and without pain. The Bitters also promote healthy evaporation from the surface which is particularly desirable at the season when sudden spells of raw, unpleasant weather are apt to check the natural perspiration and produce congestion of the liver, lungs, and colds. The Best Safeguard Against All Diseases is BODILY VIGOR, and this the Great Vegetable Restorative essentially promotes.

FOR THIRTY YEARS
Has that well-known, standard, and popular remedy, manufactured by Perry Davis & Son, Providence, R. I., been before the public, and in that time has become known in all parts of the world, and has been used by people of all nations.

PAIN KILLER.

It remains to-day that same good and efficient remedy. Its wonderful power in relieving the most severe pain has never been equaled, and it has earned its world-wide popularity by its intrinsic merit. No curative agent has had so wide spread sale or even such universal satisfaction. The various ailments for which the Pain Killer is an unfailing cure, are too well known to require recapitulation in this advertisement. As an external and internal medicine, the Pain Killer stands unrivaled.

ADDRESS TO

—THE—

NERVOUS AND DEBILITATED,

WHOSE SUFFERINGS

HAVE BEEN

Protracted from Hidden Causes,

AND WHOSE CASES REQUIRE

PROMPT TREATMENT

to Render Existence Desirable.

If you are suffering or have suffered, from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky or frothy, or is itropy on setting? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling on this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, mooping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eyes as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and stand have but little appetite, and you attribute his to dyspepsia, or liver complaint?

self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, MAKE THE MAN.

Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business men, are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health.

You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, or palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid of colds, succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged; they are always pleasant and polite in the society of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflamed by running to excess. These will not only but also those they do business with or for.

RUIN THEIR CONSTITUTION,

How many men from badly cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a Diuretic.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

THE PET.

I'm the pet,
Not six yet,
Curly of auburn, eyes of jet;
See me hop;
Make me cry;
My name's Taddy—don't forget!

Here's my suit,
That's my boot,
Most a man's size, only smaller!
Here's my hat,
Just best that,
Have a high one, when I'm taller.

This is Flo—
Girl I know;
Not as old as me—not quite;
Sometimes I
Way up, so I
Then I'm sorry. She won't fight.

I've a horse,
Rocks, of course;
Flo and I ride every day;
When I grow
Way up, so I
I won't have a horse for play.

See my spaniel;
His name's Daniel,
Though for short I call him Dan.
I've a sled,
In the shed,
Goes as swift as ever she can!

Say, it's nice,
Snow and ice!
Flo and I like winter weather;
Wait a while,
Old Croquet!
Then tug up the hill together.

Cousin Jim,
(See that's him),
Plays Croquet with Filly Clem;
He's so queer!
Say, next year,
They'll be married, both of 'em.

Don't you tell;
There's the bell!
That mean's chicken, jelly, rice,
Stop that play,
Old Croquet!
Dinner is so jolly nice!

Here's a mamma,
(See that's her),
I must fly a kiss to get!
There's no other
Sister, brother;
Only Taddy—he's the pet!

Little Corporal.

TIED OUT.—A three year old nephew of a friend of ours, had just finished his usual prayer at his mother's knee, when she said:

"Now, Willie pray for your grandfather and grandmother."

He did as directed.

"Now, for your aunt and uncles; and now for all your cousins."

His petitions went up singly, for each class.

"And now, Willie, pray for all the world besides," said his mother.

Wearied out, perhaps, he immediately exclaimed:

"Ma, its much as I can do to pray for my own 'lations."

SAMMY'S mother wished to spend the evening at a friend's, and therefore put the little fellow to bed, telling him about the guardian spirit who took care of good little boys. To further prevent the darkness from giving him fear, she left the light dimly burning.

The next morning Sammy was up bright and early, and full of news.

"Did you?"

"Mamma, I saw the angels last night!"

"Yes, they've got wings!"

"Ah!"

"They sung to me!"

"Is it possible?"

"And they bit me on my hands, the nasty things!"

Sammy had mistaken mosquitos for dear little angels.

IS PROTECTIVE TARIFFS CONSTITUTIONAL?—The Philadelphia Age says that an important question in relation to the import system of this nation may find its way to the Supreme Court for solution during the coming winter. It is whether a tariff for protection is Constitutional? That the practice has always been to lay varying duties on manufactured goods is unquestionable; but the Constitution provides and requires that all duties levied by the United States shall be "uniform."

The Court will be asked to say whether discriminating duties can be called uniform, and whether a fixed ad valorem tariff is permissible under the terms of the Constitution.

WHAT CAMERON DID.—The Pittsburgh Commercial, a Radical sheet says, in speaking of the late Pennsylvania election: "The State Senate almost gone—a loss in the House—a loss of six Congressmen—all to gratify one bad old man (Simon Cameron). We hear he glories in his shame—because he says he will fill the appointments and sell the offices in these districts."

MARINE DISASTERS.—During a period of nine years, ending with 1869, there were 1,041 disasters to vessels engaged in the California maritime trade involving a pecuniary loss of $33,182,089. Since 1862 one thousand five hundred and one lives have been lost.

A YOUNG lady at a Western temperance meeting said: "Brethren and sisters, cider is a necessity to me and I must have it. If it is decided that we are not to drink cider, I shall eat apples and get some young man to squeeze me, for I can't live without the juice of the apple."

WILL NOT PATRONIZE.—The order of United Mechanics of Vallejo have determined not to patronize any one who in any manner employs Chinese.

A paper is to be started at Hayward next week.

HOUSE, FARM AND GARDEN.

HOW TO MAKE CUTTINGS GROW.—According to the manner of propagating cuttings, the New England Farmer says that it has been ascertained that a cutting will develop roots much sooner in moist sand than in rich soil. But the sand cannot maintain its growth for any length of time. To prepare pots for raising cuttings they should be filled nearly to the brim with rich garden loam, dark and porous, not clayey and soggy; then pour in one inch in depth of scouring sand; sea sand will do as well as the yellow sand. Wet this thoroughly, and place the cuttings from which all but three or four upper leaves have been removed, close to the side of the pot; the contact of the ware against the stem of the cutting promotes its growth. Press the wet sand firmly around the tiny stem. A portion of your chance for success in raising cuttings or slips depends upon this. Plant as many cuttings as the pot will hold, from six to a dozen, according to the size of your pot; when they are firmly set in the sand two or three can be set in the middle of the pot. Set them away in a dark, warm place for twenty-four or thirty six hours. Thus cuttings will grow more quickly than in a hot bed, because the temperature is not dry. Their growth depends a great deal upon light, heat and moisture. If a bud is close at the base of a cutting it will strike root more easily and is not so apt to decay. The roots shoot from a bud, and the lower down it is the surer your success. When the leaves drop, the plant is commencing to grow; if they wither on the stem it has begun to decay. By following these directions no one can fail to grow all kinds of house plants. Roses, and all the rarest flowers of the greenhouses are propagated in this manner.

LEMON JUICE IN DIPHTHERIA.—Dr. Revillout, in a paper presented last summer to the French Academy of Medicine, asserts that lemon juice is one of the most efficacious medicines which can be applied to diphtheria, and he relates that, when a dresser in the hospital, his own wife was saved by this timely application. He got three dozen lemons, and gargled her throat with the juice, swallowing a little at the same, in order to act on more deep-seated parts. The doctor has noted numerous cases wherein complete success was obtained by this method of treatment.

CHEWING GUM.—Chewing gum is made of certain parts of gum arabic, gum tragacanth, a small quantity of resin and fat. The fat used is expressed from the bodies of hogs, cats, dogs, and other animals found dead in the streets of cities. Nice, isn't it.

Widows are the very mischief. There's nothing like 'em. If they make up your minds to marry, it's done. We know one who was terribly afraid of thunder and lightning, and every time a storm came on she would run into Mr. Smith's house (he was a widower), and clasp her little hands, and fly around till the man was half distracted for fear she would be killed and the consequence was, she was Mrs. John Smith before three thunder storms rattled over her head.

The Newburyport Herald thus describes the aurora which attracted so much attention throughout the country: "Last evening, as soon as Titonus had retired for the night and was enjoying his first snooze, his spouse, the rosy fingered Aurora, daughter of the Morning, snatched the saffron-coverlet from his bed, and, wrapping it about her, danced a jig in the northern sky."

Don Placido Vega, the Mexican revolutionist in Sinolola, is reported to have been assassinated in that State, at the instance of his rival, Jozado.

No MAN need apply for work in the masons' department on Mare Island unless he is a Republican. So says Chief Bally Denio, the boss mason.

According to the Alta, this nation is about 1000 years old. It says the late census was the ninth centennial enumeration of the people of our country.

OVER in Carson the other day, a verdict of $100,000 was rendered against the bondsmen of Rhodes, late Treasurer of the State of Nevada.

A learned doctor has given his opinion that tight lacing is a benefit, inasmuch as it kills off all the foolish girls and leaves the wise ones to grow into women.

HOWE MACHINE COMPANY'S

WORLD RENOWNED

SEWING MACHINES!

Paris Exposition Universelle, 1867.

TWO GRAND PRIZES,

GRAND CROSS OF THE LEGION

OF HONOR.

To Elias Howe, Jr., as Inventor,

And Gold Medal for

THE BEST SEWING MACHINE.

Highest Honors ever Conferred

FOR SEWING MACHINES.

THE Machine which bears his name has long been regarded as the standard of excellence, and has become celebrated throughout the world. The work done by these Machines is unsurpassed—sewing the thickest muslin or the thickest cloth, with equal facility; and requiring no extra adjusting for uneven thickness or passing over seams; it runs its own hem as it sews, sewing a seam stronger than the fabric itself. To use it, hem, fell, mack, braid, cord, quilt and gather, it seems more like a thing of life than a machine moved by the will of the operator. It is capable of doing a description of sewing that is required in a family; and also for seamstresses and dress makers. It is found invaluable. They seldom or never give any trouble in operating, and in a word, are the

MOST SATISFACTORY SEWING

MACHINES IN USE.

Notwithstanding their great superiority, they are sold at prices as low as other first-class machines.

A Medallion likeness of Mr. Howe is imbedded in the plates of every Howe Machine, without which none are genuine. Every purchaser of a Sewing Machine, should inquire for

Elias Howe, Jr.'s Sewing Machines,

And if they are not sold in their vicinity, address the General Agency for Illustrated Circulars, etc., and do not purchase until you have thoroughly investigated these renowned machines.

NEW WEED SEWING MACHINE

THE LAST AND BEST.

THE New Weed Sewing Machine Company have now at last completed their Three Standard Styles of Weed Sewing Machines.

First—Their New "Family Favorite." Second—Their New, Light and Noiseless Manufacturers' Sewing Machine. Thirdly—Their immense heavy Manufacturers' Favorite. The three together combining the advantages of all others up to the present time, being the BEST made and giving the best work—has received throughout Europe, the States, and upon this Coast, the

First and Highest Premium

at each and every public Fair since 1867 (the year it was completed), where any premium at all has been given or where its strong points have been really exhibited.

There is a difference!—All the premiums that the WEED Sewing Machine Company claim, from the First and Highest Premium at the Great World's Fair at Paris, 1867, up to the present time, (see small circulars) are each and every one GENUINE Awards, or we will forfeit $500 for each and every false claim! Other Sewing Machines have had their Premiums but how many in the last two years?

There is a difference! says the "True Chronicle." "This magnificent Sewing Machine comes forward in good time, and strikes exactly the right mark." Also, the editor of the "Independent" says, "Such a Sewing Machine as the WEED—New F. E.—we have never seen." Thus the New Weed Sewing Machine is the

SIMPLEST AND STRONGEST,

the last, and as we believe in modern improvement we may add the BEST Sewing Machine made yet. It is the best Family Sewing Machine; it is the best Boot, Tailor's, Saddler's Sewing Machine! It is the most successful Sewing Machine! For already its name is a household word in both Europe and America, and is rapidly taking the place of all others. Its immense central Manufactory is in Hartford, Connecticut.

ESTRAY TAKEN UP.

Came to the premises of the Under-signed, sometime in May, a whitish-gray, mare, Canadian pony built, and weighing between 900 and 1000 pounds, and branded, very indistinctly. The brand, as near as can be made out, is "30," or "80," with a perpendicular mark across each figure; it may, however, be "B O" or "S O" with the line across the "O." The owner can have the same by proving property and paying charges, otherwise the animal will be posted, in accordance with law. My ranch is about eight miles from Millerton.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Coughs, Asthma and Consumption, etc., etc.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given against incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and, indeed, as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral, they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.
